The UC Center Food & Agriculture Series is a three-week series brought to you through the collaboration of UC Center Sacramento and the UC Global Food Initiative. The Global Food Initiative aligns the UC’s research to explore solutions to issues of food security, health and sustainability.

May 12th, 2016
Associate Professor Terry Lehenbauer, UC Davis and Professor Thomas B. Newman, MD, UCSF
“Antibiotics in Livestock Production: The Intersection of Human and Animal Health.”

May 19th, 2016
Professor Adele de la Torre, UC Davis and Assistant Professor Malo Hutson, UC Berkeley.
“Preventive Health Solutions for California’s Diabetes Epidemic.”

May 26th, 2016*
Professor Dennis Baldocchi, UC Berkeley and Professor Louise Jackson, UC Davis.
“California Climate Change Scoping Plan: The Role of Agriculture.”

The UC Center Sacramento is located at:
1130 K Street, Room LL3
Sacramento, CA 95814
Register at uccs.ucdavis.edu/events
Lunch will be provided.
For questions contact Dee Powell at (916) 445-5100 or spowell@ucdavis.edu
*Talk catered by Farm to Fork Initiative Restaurant, Magpie Cafe.